“ My heart is heavy. He was the sweetest man. He always kept an eye on my mom at Forest Manor and let us know how her day was going when he greeted us in the hallway. And he loved spending joy to others by gifting his jewelry creations. He is now reunited with Ms. Dot. Rest In Peace. Prayers for Mary and the family.

“ I don't think my mind has fully processed that Sidney is no longer here. He will no longer come find me everyday to say hello. No more talks about life. No more hearing him nag about how I'm not married and boys these days just suck. I've had the pleasure Of being his nurse-and previously his wife's-and getting to know him over the last 2 years. I told him goodbye Friday afternoon, not expecting to not see him when I got back to work. The last thing he said to me was I love you, and be good. To which I replied like always, I love you too and I'll try. Always got a laugh from him. Rip Mr. Sid, I know you're right where you want to be, with Ms. Dot. You will always hold a place in my heart.
